THE MALES FALLING BEHAND. -Statistics show that the male population of the civilized world is falling farther and farther behind the female. According to the last

British census the excess of women and girls in Great Britain is about nine hundred thousand, an increase in ten years of nearly two hundred thousand. The German census of last December places the number of females about aix hundred thousand above that of the males in the Kingdom of Prussis, or nearly three times the excess of twenty years ago. There are 1,000,000 more females than males in the German Empire. In Sweden and Norway the weaker sex are in the majority by 250,000, in Austria-Hungary by 600,000 in Denmark by 60,000, and in all European countries they outnumber the males. In the United States, Canada and Australia the major are in the majority, though not largely so, the estimated excess of males in the United State being only 1,100,000 or 1,200.000. It is plain that but for immigration, which fornishes a much greater number of men than women, the latter would soon be in the majority in America. There is a large preponderance now of females in New Eng-United States, and if immigration were to materially decrease undoubtedly the surplus of males would soon disappear in the whole country. In less civilized countries. where women are lightly esteemed, it is otherwise, India having shout aix million mo e men than women, while the males largely preponderate in Chips. The obvious deduction is that the higher civilization is most favorable to the increar of the female sex, and this auggests the interesting question whether divilization is doing the best thing for the world in protwo-horse-power, but hull, machinery and ducing this result. Peper packing cases are indestructible, apparently, and the saving they effect in freight is enormous. Thousands of dollars are already invested in this comparatively new industry, and a new company, with $1,250,000 capital, has been organized to introduce paper boards into other lines. A STRANGE CASE OF ENFORCED MARRIAGE, -Ayoung American lady, named Cooper, sought the aid of the Divorce Court on Tuesday to annul her marriage with her cousin, a resident in New York, named Crase. She said he asked her one day in July 1888 to accompany him to St. Paul's Cathedral. On the way he took her into St. Press. Bride's Church, and they were married. The petitioner declared that she did not know what they were doing at the time, and she believed noring was used. He left her immediately after the ceremony, and she had never seen him since. Miss Cooper's solicitor went to New York, and saw Crane, who told him that he matriod the girl for her money, and when he learned that she had less than he supposed, he did not care a con for hor. GBRMAN VIEW OF THE BUTTISH ARMY. It is as well that we should see ourselves as I others see us. We have received a series of letters which have lately appeared in the Militar Ze tung from a military correspondent, describing military life in England. The writer at eaks very well of our cavalry, men and horses. Both are good. he says, but he thinks that far too much time is wasted on polish, which, in the case of young soldiers, only wearies. As regards our Horse Artillery, he considers the horses as the finest in the world for the H. P. Wadman, H. Wadman, A. H. The organization, he thinks, is faulty, and the big regiment,' quite out of accord with modern ideas of organisation. Of our infantry he does not speak with any great amount of enthusias . and he laya stress on its absurd organisation also. He is of opinion that the higher and best-known military authorities have shown themselves completely out of a mpathy with the feelings and sympathies of the majority of the regimental officers, which accounts for much that is wrong. The British soldier, in fact, is spoken of in high terms of praise, In a bright number of Cassell's Magazine but there is throughout a general feeling we find an amusing little article upon the of contempt expressed for ' military administrators who have shown themselves incapable of appreciating esprit de corps and the glorious traditions of the Army.'-Army and Navy Gazette.

SUPREME COURT,

Mr Francis, Q.O., instructed by Messrs Johnson, Stokes and Master, moved ex parte on behalf of the plaintiffs for an interim injunction restraining the defendants Robert Fraser Smith, William Pender Muclean and Alfred Edward Skools (1) from acting as directors of the Shameen Hotel Co., Limited, (2) from continuing in ossession of the company's offices. No 5 Padder's Hill and the books, registers, monies and securities of the company (3) from removing, altering or in any way interforing with the said banks, registers, monies and securities, and (4) from excluding John Pitman, a director of the company, and Charles Monney, Acting Secretary, from entering the company's offices. The court was also asked to appoint a receiver to manage the business of the company pending the appointment of directors and call a meeting of shareholders. motion was made on two affidavits by John Pitman, which Mr Francis read. The first affidavit was as follows :--1. The Shameen Hotel Company Limited is a Company duly incorporated under The Companies Ordinances 1865 9 an was registered in the mouth of June 1889 A true copy of the memorandum and articles of association is now produced to Robert Fraser Smith and that great mis- - Liverpool Journal of Commerce chief will be done to the Company and the Company's business in Hongkoug and Cauton if, pending a Meeting of the Sharehelders, the said Robert Fraser Smith is allowed to continue in possession.

In a supplementary affiliavit the same deponent and that the defendant W. P. Maclean was invited by the dependent and A. E. Skeels to join the Board of Directors in July 1891, and that he accepted the invitation and joined the Board and as a director attended a Board meeting; to the best of depon ont's belief the defendant Maclean was still a director. The depoment further stated that if the manager of the Hotel were to be dismissed as was contemplated by the defendants the company would sustain serious loss and Mr Francis said the application was in one sense peculiar. The rule of the Court of equity was of course not to interfere with the internal management or affairs of duly registered companies any ordinary possibility the shareholders could help themselves. The first idea was that everything in connection with this company could be put right by calling an extraordina y general meeting, but this could not be done without considerable delay and the interests of the company would suffer in the meantime. One of the first questions that would be raised at such a meeting would naturally be who was qualified to vote, a question | which Mr Fraser Smith-who would be chairman - was hardly the proper person to decide, especially if the question referred to his own qualification. He understoud that Mr Fraser Smith contended that i one fashion or another he had paid in full for his shares, that the company was indebted to him to an extent which entitled him to consider his shares as fully paid up. He claimed a large sum as director's fees, but by a resolution of the directors they agreed not to take their regulation fees under the articles of association, but to a cept $100 in full of all remuneration. Before Mr Fraser Smith went to Australia, recently, he sent an hereinafter mentioned and never taken up application for this $100 and for $50 due to him as Acting Secretary for a month, which soms were paid to him. That claim was therefore entirely unfounded. That was also a question that would be raised at any meeting under his presidency and the main object of the plaintiffs was that these points should be settled at a meeting called under the direction of the Court and presided over by an officer of the Court. The prehollers of some 940 shares.

> Mr Francis said Mr Pitman's shares were included; but he was not aware whether Mr Pitman had now the number mentioned regist red in his name. Mr Francis said Mr Mao toy was dismissed within a few days of Mr Fraser Smith's raturn from Australia simply on the ground that he had written a respectful letter to Mr Fraser Smith refusing to recognise him as Chairman, on the ground that his shares had been forfeited. His Lordship said he saw the difficulties which Mr Francis pointed out, but he did not think it was nee ssary to do more than give leave to serve notice on the other side, making the notice as short as possible. Mr Francis said he had just been informd that an extraordinary meeting of the shareholders had been called. His Lordship said he would give leave t
